UNIVERSITY HISTORY

Colorado State University-Pueblo has evolved from a three-room junior college with 63 students and two instructors to a regional comprehensive university offering 28 baccalaureate and 10 master's degree programs, serving more than 5,000 students from over 42 states and 32 countries. Over the past eight decades under five different names, the institution has graduated more than 40,000 students from 50 states and 32 countries. Today, more than 21,000 graduates live in Colorado.

- 1933 Southern Colorado Junior College provided two years of college instruction in the arts, literature, and science, adult education and vocational opportunities, and coursework to complete a high school program.
- 1937 Taking advantage of the Junior College Act of the General Assembly, the Pueblo County Junior College District was formed, making the college part of the public school system supported by county-wide taxes. The name change to Pueblo Junior College brought with it a change in mission. The institution offered the first two years of general study at the college level, providing the educational foundation for students seeking to transfer to complete their higher education degrees at four-year colleges and universities, and continued to offer a range of practical courses for those not seeking a higher education degree.

- The 30th anniversary year saw the state enact legislation making the institution a four-year degree granting college and a member of the state system of higher education. The first juniors were enrolled in 1963, followed in 1964 by the first seniors and the first bachelor's degrees were awarded in 1965. The name change to Southern Colorado State College reflected recognition of the need for more advanced degrees and an increase in the number of students pursuing a four-year degree in the southeastern region of Colorado.
- the number of academic degrees offered at the undergraduate and graduate levels also increased. The first graduate program to be offered was the Master of Arts in Teaching with an emphasis in industrial education, beginning in 1972. In recognition of an expanded role and scope, the institution was granted university status and was renamed the University of Southern Colorado.
- 2003 In May of 2002, Governor Bill Owens signed legislation changing the mission and the name to Colorado State University-Pueblo effective July 1, 2003. Today, the university is a regional, comprehensive institution with a focus on professional studies such as business, nursing, social work, and teacher education.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENTS

On December 1, 2011, Lesley Di Mare became the 14th president of Colorado State University-Pueblo. Before becoming the first permanent female president in CSU-Pueblo's history, Di Mare served as the Interim President & CEO at Nevada State College (NSC) in Henderson after first serving for three years as the Provost and Executive Vice President of Academic Affairs.

At CSU-Pueblo Di Mare has made tough policy decisions and implemented a new financial system in order to establish a firm fiscal foundation for the University. Under her leadership, the University has established an automatic merit scholarship program, enhanced its long-time partnership with Rocky Mountain PBS and expanded its intercollegiate athletic program to 22 teams. The student population has become even more diverse during her tenure (nearly 50 percent minority) thanks to a variety of enrollment initiatives, including aggressive recruitment campaigns for Hispanics as well as international students. Di Mare also encouraged initiation of the University's first online degree programs - RN to BSN in nursing, construction management, and civil engineering technology and the CSU-Pueblo Foundation's first capital campaign in nearly three decades.

While at NSC, Di Mare spearheaded a number of initiatives to enhance the college's academic standing and visibility in the community.

Working with faculty and administration, she developed NSC's Standards of Academe, which provided the campus community clear expectations and criteria for making progress towards promotion and tenure as well as merit.

Before joining NSC as provost, Di Mare held administrative positions at California State University Los Angeles and at Arizona State University, where she served as Department Chair of Communication Studies for 11 years, Interim Dean of the College of Human Services for two years, and Associate Vice Provost of Undergraduate Studies for two years.

She has published articles on American and Japanese communication styles, gender and communication, and rhetoric and persuasion. She was a visiting fellow at Manchester Metropolitan University, Manchester, UK and at the Japan Studies Institute, San Diego State University, 2003. From 1988-1990, Di Mare served as Communications Advisor to the Representative of the Nagano Prefecture, JETRO.

Di Mare earned a Ph.D. in speech communication from Indiana University

(1984), master's degree in speech communication from California State University-Hayward, East Bay (1981), and a bachelor's degree in theatre arts from California State University-Chico (1972).

MISSION

As a regional, comprehensive university, Colorado State University-Pueblo has moderately selective admission standards. The University offers a broad array of baccalaureate programs with a strong professional focus and a firm grounding in the liberal arts and sciences. The University also offers selected graduate programs.

From the beginning, CSU-Pueblo has focused on being student-centered by featuring small, personalized, and participative classes, combined with competent, qualified, and supportive faculty, staff, and administrators. People of the region look to the University for career preparation and development opportunities, major undergraduate and graduate specialties, outreach services, cultural and athletic activities, and economic and business development.

As the core mission of the University, student learning is CSU-Pueblo's primary focus. This requires the faculty to be active scholars who have a lasting interest in their disciplines and in teaching and learning. The research activities improve us as teachers and expose our students to methods of inquiry. In addition, the focus on learning requires that the curriculum be dynamic and ever-changing to meet the needs and expectations of the people in our service region. CSU-Pueblo empowers its students to attain the highest standards of academic achievement, public and professional service, personal development, and ethical conduct.

CSU-Pueblo is equally committed to serving the diverse population of the region; this emphasis is reflected in the demographic characteristics of the student body. The University serves both traditional and non-traditional students, campusbased and community-based students, students from Colorado, other states, and other countries, first-year and transfer students, recent high school graduates, and students who work to support families, Caucasian students and students of color—especially Hispanic students.

Because more than 25 percent of our students are Hispanic, the Federal Government has designated CSU-Pueblo a Hispanic Serving Institution. Besides reflecting our commitment to serve this critically important and rapidly-growing segment of the student population, that designation also allows the University to compete for certain federal grant funds to support its ability to better serve all students. The University also seeks to provide a rich and diverse cultural environment that allows freedom of expression within a spirit of civility and mutual respect. The public service expected of all members of our community benefits our society—local and global—and builds our sense of citizenship.

LEGISLATIVE AUTHORITY

The state of Colorado established and continues to recognize the University through state statutes:

There is hereby established a University at Pueblo, to be known as Colorado State University-Pueblo, which shall be a regional, comprehensive university with moderately selective admissions standards. The University shall offer a broad array of baccalaureate programs with a strong professional focus and a firm grounding in the liberal arts and sciences. The University shall also offer a limited number of graduate programs. (Colorado Statutes 23-55-101)

In April 2005, the Board of Governors of the Colorado State University System adopted a complementary, focused mission statement for the University that stresses its distinctiveness and central commitments:

Colorado State University-Pueblo is committed to excellence, setting the standard for regional comprehensive universities in teaching, research and service by providing leadership and access for its region while maintaining its commitment to diversity.

Both of these statements guide the University in all that it does.

VALUES:

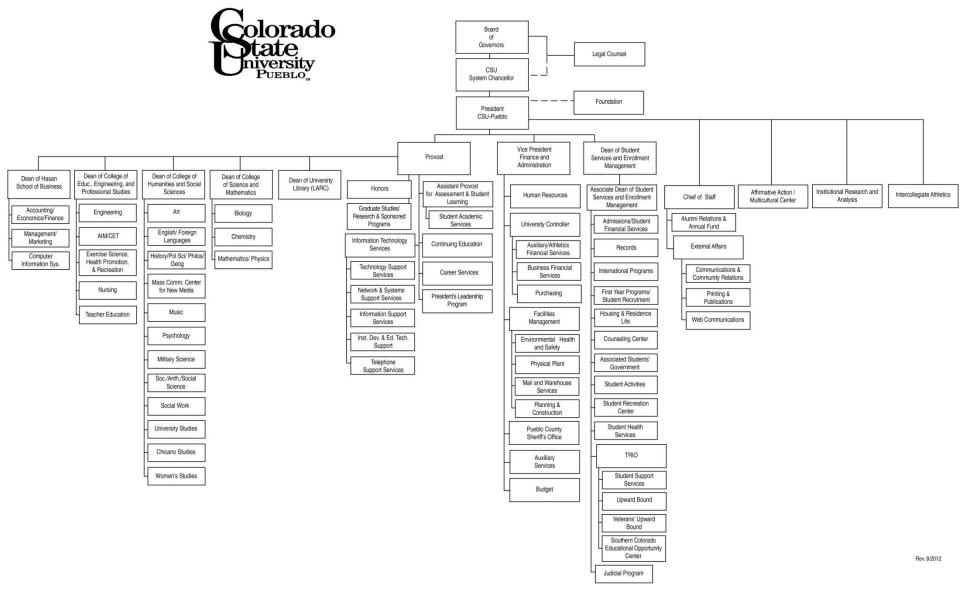

In addition to the mission statement, the Colorado State University System Board of Governors has adopted a set of values to be shared by CSU-Pueblo and its sister schools, Colorado State University in Fort Collins and Colorado State University Global Campus. These values are as follows:

Be ACCOUNTABLE
Promote CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY
Employ a CUSTOMER FOCUS
Promote FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION
Demonstrate INCLUSIVENESS and DIVERSITY
Encourage and reward INNOVATION
Act with INTEGRITY and MUTUAL RESPECT
Provide OPPORTUNITY and ACCESS
Support EXCELLENCE in TEACHING and RESEARCH

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

The Colorado State University-Pueblo Library supports the university's mission of fostering academic excellence, student success, and diversity by teaching students to identify, evaluate, and apply information resources effectively; providing access for CSU-Pueblo to high-quality information resources and services that support teaching, learning and research; and promoting cultural appreciation and lifelong learning throughout the campus and community. To achieve this mission, the library provides access via its website: http://library.csupueblo.edu to a rich collection of online and print resources that closely support the University's curriculum. These collections include over 350,000 print volumes, over 100 databases and over 40,000 journal titles. In addition, the Library participates in a statewide shared catalog project called the Prospector that allows CSU-

Pueblo students and faculty to borrow materials from most other academic libraries across the state and it also provides interlibrary loan services to obtain needed research resources for students. The University's librarians work closely with other academic faculty to provide instruction for students in finding, evaluating, and using information resources. Librarians are available to provide research support to students in person, by phone, e-mail, or text message. It also regularly partners with other campus entities to host cultural and educational events for the campus.

From 2009-2011, the University Library underwent a complete renovation and expansion. This $24 million dollar project dramatically transformed the library building into an inviting and usable library and academic support center. The new Library and Academic Resources Center (LARC) which was officially unveiled in April 2011, provides students and faculty with flexible space in which to work alone or in groups using state-of-the-art technology as well as traditional print resources. The new facility brings together many different academic support services in one location including library research support and instruction programs, course reserves, print and electronic research collections, two floors of computers, scanners, and other equipment, wireless technology throughout the building, 3-D printing, Information Technology Services' Help Desk, the Instructional Technology Center, advising, tutoring and writing rooms, and the Career Center. Finally, the space also includes presentation and gallery spaces that allow it to serve as an intellectual and cultural hub for the campus.

ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS

Colorado State University-Pueblo's admission process supports the enrollment goals of the University and assures access to qualified applicants. This broad statement allows for the accommodation of four types of student:

FRESHMEN

CSU-Pueblo requires a minimum admission index score of 86 to be considered for admission. The index is a combination of high school grade-point average and ACT composite or SAT combined scores. A minimum high school grade-point average of 2.00 is also required. In addition, all freshmen must complete a prescribed minimum high school curriculum.

Students who apply on the basis of the General Education Development (GED) test must have the agency issuing the GED test forward the test scores (not the certificate) to the Office of Admissions. Applicants who have completed their secondary education through alternative options such as home schooling should submit documentation of that education (i.e. transcript, portfolio, narrative statements of accomplishment, etc.). Consideration for admission will be similar to that for applicants from traditional high school programs, but additional emphasis will be placed on scores obtained on standardized examinations.

Graduates of Colorado high schools participating in the standards based admissions project will be considered according to the current state guidelines for that project.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Students who have earned at least 13 credits at other colleges or universities and are seeking admission to CSU-Pueblo are considered transfer students. An applicant with less than 13 transferable college semester credit hours must meet the first-time freshmen standards. This includes international applicants.

Transfer students must be in good standing at the institution last attended and have at least a 2.300 cumulative grade-point average. If not, the records will be reviewed and a recommendation on admission will be made by the admissions office.

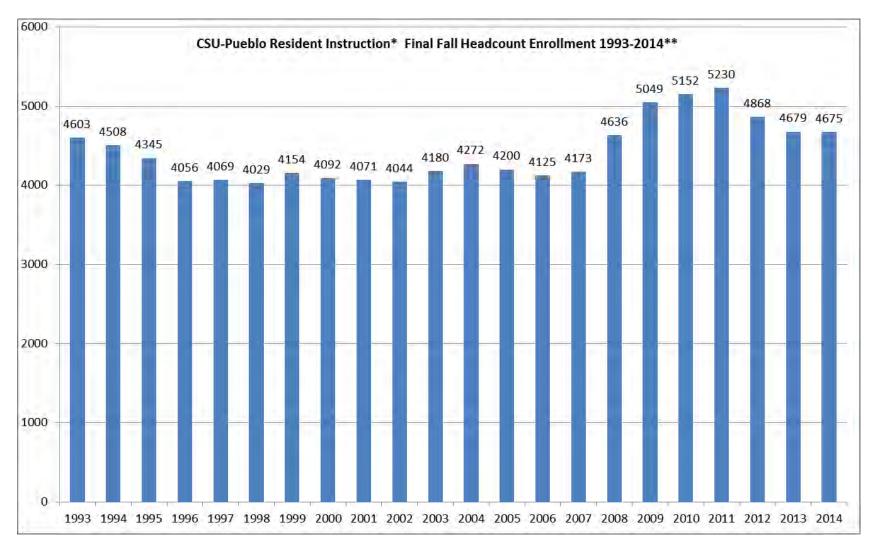

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Students who are residents of another country and are in possession of, or seeking an F-1 or J-1 student visa, are considered international students. All international applicants must submit transcripts in both the native language and an official English translation, official TOEFL or IELTS scores verifying English proficiency, a certified financial statement showing the availability of resources required to study in the U.S., along with financial sponsorship, if applicable, for admission purposes. The Center for International Programs is the primary contact for such prospective students.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

The Program Director/Coordinator determines requirements for admission to each graduate program. Generally, a baccalaureate degree, an undergraduate grade point average of at least 3.0 and an appropriate graduate examination (GRE, GMAT, etc.) are required. If the applicant is an international student, all requirements listed in paragraph 3 above must be supplied to the Center for International Programs. Currently, graduate programs of study are offered in biology, biochemistry, chemistry, business administration, education, engineering, English, history, Industrial and Systems Engineering and nursing.

ESTIMATED COST OF ATTENDANCE FOR UNDERGRADUATE RESIDENTS

The annual cost for tuition, fees, books, and room and board is approximately $17,456 for full time Colorado residents living in on campus housing. The actual costs of housing may be much different, and the cost for a student from another state will be different as well. Students may also be eligible for various forms of financial aid, thereby reducing the actual cost.

Financial need is a factor in determining the financial aid eligibility and actual cost. Financial need is the difference between the Cost of Attendance (COA) and the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) as calculated by the U.S. Department of Education via the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Financial need can be expressed as a simple equation: (COA – EFC = financial need)

For each student, the COA, EFC, and financial need will be different. Financial aid is offered to help students cover their financial need depending on available funding and specific student characteristics.

So, as an example, if the COA is $17,456 and the EFC is $10,000, the financial need is, thus $7,456. This need may be met by grants, scholarships, work programs, and/or loans. To determine what the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is, students should complete the FAFSA or FAFSA 4caster at http://www.fafsa.gov

Below are the steps to take to determine how much it will cost to attend CSU-Pueblo.

- Estimate the actual Cost Of Attendance (COA) using tuition and fee information at http://www.colostate-pueblo.edu/BFS/TuitionFees/Pages/default.aspx Use the figure provided for other expenses, i.e., supplies, transportation, and medical, and use actual housing costs if living off campus.
- Find the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) at http://www.fafsa.gov
- Determine the Financial Need by subtracting the EFC from the COA.

A Net Price Calculator (NPC) estimating the cost of attending CSU-Pueblo can be located at http://www.colostate-pueblo.edu/IR/NetPriceCalculator/Pages/default.aspx

Complete the FAFSA and the CSU-Pueblo scholarship application. Both applications are found at the Financial Aid Website at https://colostate-pueblo.edu/FinanancialAid/Pages/default.aspx Complete each year no later than March 1 to maximize financial aid eligibility.

FINANCIAL AID

At CSU-Pueblo we are committed to helping students explore financing options to help them achieve their educational goals. Approximately 80 percent of our students receive some type of assistance such as federal, state and institutional grants, scholarships, a variety of student employment programs, and federal student loans.

Students may apply for financial aid by completing and submitting the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at www.fafsa.gov. Priority is given to students who complete the FAFSA by March 1 each year (prior to that academic year's fall semester). The CSU-Pueblo school code is 001365.

Students who want to be considered for all University grants or scholarships must also complete the scholarship application by March 1 each year.

For more detailed information on the types of aid available and for other financial aid questions please visit our website at http://www.colostate-pueblo.edu/FinancialAid/.

PERFORMANCE MEASURES FOR ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

I. Introduction

The purpose of this report is to present performance indicators, which will be of assistance in the assessment of programs. The indicators are not a substitute for evaluation, but will help the identification of trends and might serve to unify the assessment process. Assessment is used in accreditation, in the periodic review of programs, in staffing discussions, and for strategic planning.

II. The Indicators

While it is extremely difficult, perhaps impossible, to quantify the performance outcomes of a department or program, there are readily available measures (or indicators) which provide information about performance. These measures include:

Student Demand Majors

Student Usage FTE Enrollment
Completion Degrees Awarded
Resources Used Dollars Expended
Faculty Usage FTE Positions
Efficiency Scheduling

Much of the information is available in the Fact Book, budget and expenditure reports, and class schedules, but it has not been formally presented and sorted by program. The report accumulates by department and programs the aforementioned indicators and calculates simple performance ratios (students per faculty, cost per student, etc.) which can be used in the assessment process.

III. Report Organization

Each academic program offered by the University it is assigned to a responsible academic department for administrative purposes. Some departments are responsible for more than one program (e.g. language/literature has both Foreign Language and English). Certain indicators are reported at the program level (FTE students, majors, degrees, etc.) while others are usually reported at the departmental level (FTE faculty, cost, etc.)

This report is organized into a series of 10 tables and detailed college/program information sheets. The tables are data summaries by program or department consisting of:

- Table 1: TOTAL FTE ENROLLMENT BY PROGRAM. This is annual (summer, fall, spring) FTE enrollment where each FTE is computed as 30 student credit hours.
- Table 2: MAJORS by PROGRAM. This is the distributions of declared majors during the fall semester. Students with a double major are counted once with their designated first major.
- Table 3: DEGREES GRANTED by PROGRAM. Actual degrees granted during an entire year (summer, fall, spring). This includes degrees awarded through Continuing Education. Students earning degrees in 2 programs are counted in each program.
- Table 4: FACULTY FTE ALLOCATION by DEPARTMENT. Total faculty FTE resources (full-time, part-time, summer) utilized by a department. Faculty on sponsored research is reported for only the portion of assignment allocated to the State. Deans are not included.
- Table 5: INSTRUCTIONAL COSTS PER DEPARTMENT. These are the total costs assigned to departmental cost centers, not including the cost center of the dean, for a full year (summer, fall, spring). Not included are sponsored or Foundation cost centers.
- Table 6: CREDIT HOURS SCHEDULED PER PROGRAM. This is the total credit hours scheduled within an academic program for one year.
- Table 7: FTE STUDENTS PER FACULTY. In FY 2010-11, the overall ratio increased slightly from 15.80 FTE students per FTE faculty to 16.7, or a 5.8 percent increase. In FY 2011-12 the University realized an overall ratio increase again from 16.72 to 17.15 or a 2.6 percent increase. However decreased in 2012-13 and in 2013-14.
- Table 8: INSTRUCTIONAL COST PER FTE STUDENT. This table utilizes Tables 5 and 1. Average instructional costs per student increased slightly from the prior year.
- Table 9: CREDIT HOURS SCHEDULED PER FTE FACULTY. This utilizes Tables 6 and 4. The average university ratio has remained fairly consistent from 28 credit hours scheduled per FTE Faculty to 30 credit hours per FTE faculty.
- Table 10: INSTRUCTIONAL COST INDEX PER FTE STUDENT. This table computes an index for 2013-14 instructional costs and a five year average of instructional costs. A departmental index consists of its costs divided by the university average. Thus an index of 1.19 means a department operates 19% above the university average while an index of .89 means a department operates at 11% below average.

A five-year average index is considered high if it is 1.50 or greater, moderate if it is between .85 and 1.49, and low if it is .84 or below.

Following the tables is a series of information organized by college, department, and program. This information consists of detailed data by program; including enrollment, scheduling, degree, faculty, and cost data. The data and ratio tables are based on this detail. Data in pages 92-172 are provided by the Departments of Institutional Research & Analysis and Finance and Administration.

In AY 2009-2010 methodology changed slightly as reported in tables 1-10
