 1. Director Ruiz: DACA update - DACA has been formally rescinded. No new applications turned in after today. Any permits that expire in the next 6 months can be renewed. If any permits expire after this point none can be renewed after March 5th 2018. That means a lot of university students may not be able to come back in the spring if congress does not act. Congress has not acted before so a lot of people are thinking that they will not act now. That is why the DACA program was instilled because former President Obama said that he would take action into his own hands and instill this program. About 53 students are feeling the brunt of this LSU is trying to provide support. With this news we have to continue to support these students.
