Managing Life Challenges and Getting Support

College should be challenging, not overwhelming. Let us help. We understand that life occurs beyond the classroom. Should you or someone you know encounter an unexpected crisis (securing food or housing, managing a financial crisis, drastic changes in mood or behavior, missing school due to an emergency, loss of a loved one, etc..) please submit a Pack CARES referral to be connected with advocacy and support, free of charge: <http://bit.ly/packcares>

We are open Monday through Friday from 8am to 5pm. Appointments are preferred, but walk-ins are welcomed and this is a free service to students. We now offer CRISIS/Emergency intervention during off hours. Just call our number and a therapist will be available from our answering service to talk with you then, and we will follow up with you the next morning.

Call us at 719-549-2838 or stop in at the CIHHI building Room 174.

Course Concerns? We Want to Know.

Our goal at CSU Pueblo is to provide the best possible experience for students. Your first contact for any course concern is your instructor. If your concern requires further attention, please contact the department chair for that course. The full resolution process for Academic Course-Related and other concerns is detailed in the Student Complaint Resolution Process found here.

Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct is any form of cheating that results in students giving or receiving unauthorized assistance in an academic exercise or receiving credit for work which is not their own. In cases of academic misconduct, the instructor will follow protocol as identified by their department. Academic misconduct is grounds for disciplinary action by both the instructor and the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards. Any student found to have engaged in academic misconduct may receive a failing grade for the work in question, a failing grade for the course, or any other lesser penalty which the instructor finds appropriate. To dispute an accusation of academic misconduct, the student should first consult with the instructor. If the dispute remains unresolved, the student may then state their case to the department chair (or the dean if the department chair is the instructor of the course). A student may appeal a grade through the Academic Appeals Board, if eligible, as described in the Catalog.

Academic misconduct is a behavioral issue as well as an issue of academic performance. As such, it is considered an act of misconduct and is also subject to the University conduct process as defined in the CSU Pueblo Student Code of Conduct. Whether or not disciplinary action has been implemented by the faculty, a report of the infraction should be submitted to the Office of Student Conduct & Community

Standards who may initiate additional disciplinary action. The decision by the Office of Student Conduct & Community Standards may be appealed through the process outlined in the Student Code of Conduct. For assistance call 719-549-2067 or contact the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards
