

Hannah Sin-Purnell's Composition Recital

Hannah Sin-Purnell is an aspiring musician and self-published composer. She is currently studying at Colorado State University Pueblo and earning her undergraduate degree in Music Performance with a minor in Music Theory and composition. Her composition recital will consist of an in-person presentation of her overall progress and development of her compositional skills over the years. Ranging from creating her website, business cards, physical and digital scores, compositional presentations, world premiere videos, and more!