

What We Do

The Outdoor Pursuits is a student run organization that provides instruction and organized trips in a wide variety of land and water based activities. The philosophy for all of our activities is to "learn by doing." We are more than willing to accommodate all skill levels. Together, we can all learn and teach safe, responsible, and EPIC skills and techniques.

Team Development Center

The Colorado State University-Pueblo Team Development Center is designed to benefit groups of all kinds who want to work together toward a common goal. The Team Development Center objectives are to promote cooperation and group problem-solving skills, as well as develop individual self-confidence, teamwork, leadership skills, and communication skills.

Equipment Room

The Equipment Room provides a wide range of equipment - including tents, sleeping bags, backpacks, stoves, water sports gear, telemark gear, and more - to students, faculty, and community for rent at reasonable rates. Additionally, the ER has a variety of maps and outdoor guidebooks to help students plan their own trips, a ski tuning bench where students can work on their own ski/snowboard equipment, and a bicycle work stand with tools for students to work on their own bikes.

Hours of Operation

Equipment Room:

Monday - Friday 12-7pm
